

Strengthen your cross-cultural competencies

Do you want to improve your cross-cultural collaboration skills and competencies? Do you have colleagues with another cultural background than your own?

Sign up for this webinar where you will get the newest insights on “cultural agility”. Dr. Paula Caligiuri from Northeastern University, D’Amore-McKim School of Business presents her research on the topic combined with several business-like examples and accessible tools that you can use in your everyday life.

What is the webinar about?

“Cultural agility” is the ability to work comfortably and effectively with people across cultures, professions and generations. With a renewed commitment to diversity and inclusion initiatives this is a perfect time to focus on the importance of cultural agility in your organization.

Based on her research and experience from her work on the subject Dr. Paula Caligiuri shares her knowledge and findings on training and development approaches that have proven effective in promoting cultural agility. You will gain an understanding of how important it is to be able to navigate with cultural understanding towards your international colleagues and employees and learn more about why it can be a challenge. The webinar will not be recorded and will be held in English.

Sign up for the webinar here.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER / Dr. Paula Caligiuri

D’Amore-McKim School of Business, Professor of International Business and Strategy and psychologist

Dr. Paula Caligiuri has worked for several years with cross-cultural competencies. She is the founder and leader of the Cultural Agility Leadership Lab at Northeastern University. Paula Caligiuri helps companies, business teams and executives become better at navigating today's complex global environment. She has also been named one of the most prolific writers in international business for her work in overseas management, global leadership development and cultural agility.